*Marshmallows crowd the grey sky,
As tears drip drop down,
Chocolate milk is all that remains of the firm earth,
The beautiful night
The beautiful storm.*

- Extract from the poem "Storm",
by Tara Finn, aged 10.

Nearly Impossible Dreams is a unique poetry book written by talented 10 year old author, Tara Finn. It includes a collection of works composed by Tara between the ages of 8 to 10 years old.

Not only does Tara love to play with words but she uses poetry to convey her thoughts and feelings. It is intriguing to see the mind of a child expressed in this form. This combined with Tara's creativity and ability to recognise the elements of a poem at such a young age makes the book even more captivating. The book uses illustrations by Michelle Harris to depict the essence of the poems to a beautiful effect.

The poems appeal to school children; schools and educational organisations; libraries; universities; and poetry enthusiasts. It supports and encourages young Australian writers to achieve their dreams.

Tara's talent was originally recognised through Forming Circles Pty Ltd which is an Australian organisation committed to creating social and ethical investment success stories. Forming Circles is passionate about investing in future leaders, artists and entrepreneurs that will represent Australia globally. Founder and CEO of Forming Circles, Renata Cooper, said, "The book is an inspiring, uplifting, at times dark yet enlightening journey of a 10 year old. Tara truly represents the potential of upcoming Australian writing talent that we are proud to support."

Tara Finn has been reading and writing since (almost) the day she was born. She is currently in Year 6 and looking forward to going to High School. She has won four Sydney Youth Writing Awards, and been published in numerous publications.
